Update

Earlier in the year, as part of our continuing review of the ministry, we sent out a survey to 60 listeners on our mailing lists asking them to tell us if they still listen to the programme and over which outlet: short wave, satellite, fm radio or the Internet. We also asked if they were receiving the booklets and if they found them to be helpful. We have so far received 12 replies and the information sent has been useful enabling us to gauge the effectiveness of each broadcast outlet.

The people on our mailing lists are some of those who have responded to “Discovery” and have requested the booklets and who remain in touch. Many more have responded over the years, but although they may still listen we no longer have contact with them. It is not possible to know just who and how many listen each week or where they are, but Trans World Radio does have a considerable audience across Africa.

It is clear from the letters and messages we receive that the “Discovery” booklets are greatly appreciated as you will see from those quoted on the “Response” (page 6).

We continue to need much prayer concerning the ongoing broadcasts of “Discovery”. At our next team meeting in September we will be considering questions which the Lord has brought before us recently:

1. Has GBS now completed its original mandate, taken up in 1956, to use radio to proclaim Christ Redeemer and Lord by radio,?
2. In a changed situation where there are now so many similar programmes available on the air and on the Internet, are we just “sowing where many others sow”?
3. Do we continue the literature ministry in some form?

PRAY! PRAY! PRAY!
